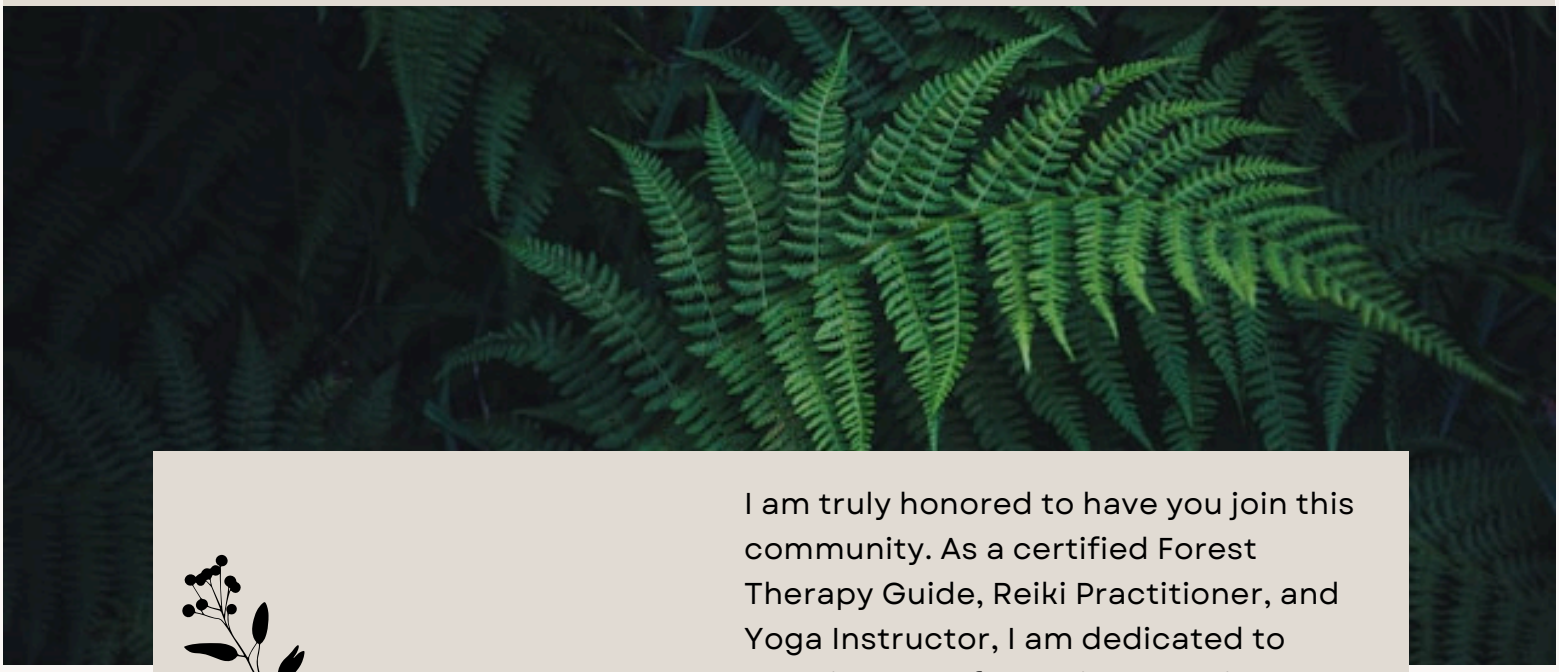
FOREST THERAPY WITH LORI



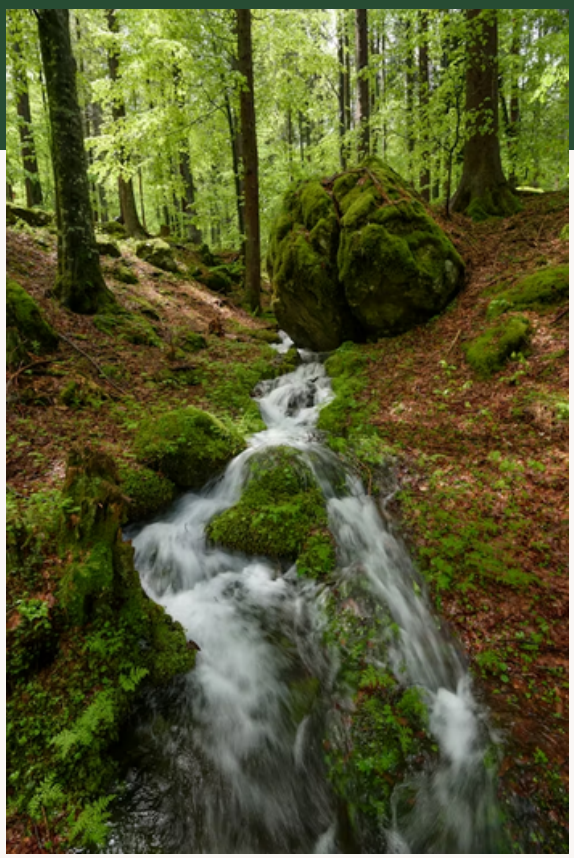
✦ Hi, I'm Lori!

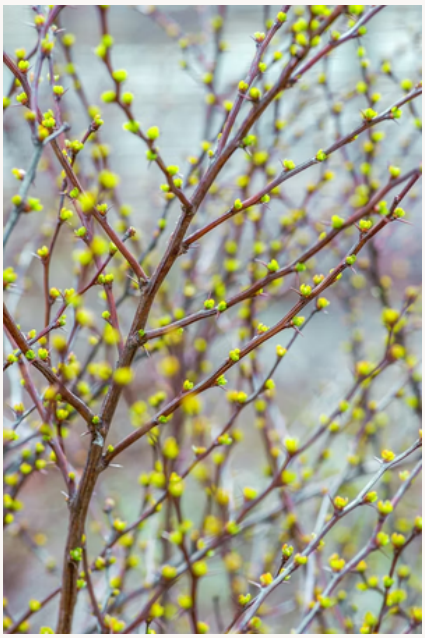
I am truly honored to have you join this community. As a certified Forest Therapy Guide, Reiki Practitioner, and Yoga Instructor, I am dedicated to curating transformative experiences that help reduce stress, anxiety, and depression, while boosting immunity, joy, and creativity. My passion is to foster a deeper connection between you and nature—one unlike anything you've experienced before.

Some of you may remember me from Winterfest in January, while others might recognize me from my time with the National Park Service, DarkSky Colorado, or the Audubon Society at Buffalo Creek Nature Park. Wherever we've met, I am grateful for our paths crossing.

Looking ahead, Forest Therapy Walks begin in April, and I am excited to be co-leading a retreat in May. Be sure to check the last page for more details. If you know of a place or event where we could collaborate, please reach out—I would love to connect and hear your ideas!

Spring is coming





Forest Therapy & Your Immune System

DISCOVER THE SCIENCE

"Findings indicate that forest bathing trips increase Natural Killer Cell activity, which was mediated by increases in the number of NK cells and the levels of intracellular anti-cancer proteins. Phytoncides released from trees and the decreased production of stress hormones may partially contribute to the increased NK activity."

This Month's Invitation

SPRING BRINGS RENEWAL

Find a quiet spot in your yard or local park or greenspace.

Close your eyes, or lower your gaze, and take 3 deep breaths and exhale slowly.

Open your eyes. Look closely around you. What changes do you notice?
